THANKSGIVING IN LIBERIA

Liberia is a country in west Africa.

Liberia celebrates Thanksgiving on the first Thursday of November.

Churches auction off baskets filled with fruits and nuts. Spicy roast chicken, mashed cassavas, and live music and dancing are also part of the celebrations.

FOOTBALL AND NAPS

After eating the Thanksgiving meal, many Americans watch football games on TV. Some families also play a traditional football game in the backyard!

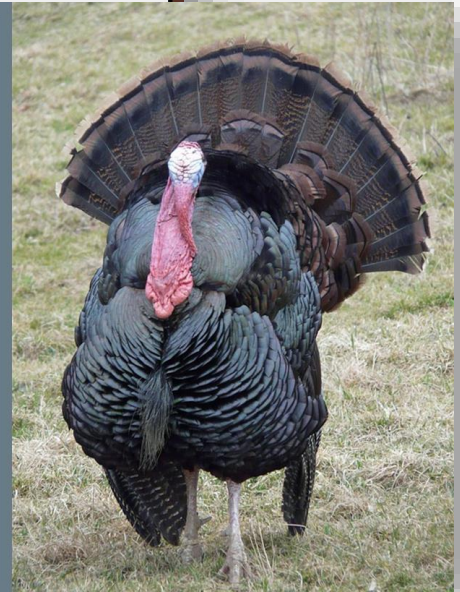

CAN YOU FIND 12 TURKEYS?

These slides have 12 photos or drawings of turkeys! Can you find them all?

The turkeys can be alive, dead, cooked, or skeletal.
They can be photos, cartoons, or illustrations.

Photos of multiple turkeys count as one turkey.

(Yes, this turkey counts as #1)

Don't have PowerPoint? This presentation is also available (and editable) in Google Slides!

“the apple of my eye”

This is a person someone is extremely fond of or proud of.

“The man’s daughter is the apple of his eye.”

Loads of fun facts, trivia, would-you-rathers, vocabulary, and more! All relate to Thanksgiving, turkeys, foods, parades, family, and football.

TRUE OR FALSE?

Turkeys have tiny teeth inside their beaks.

FALSE!

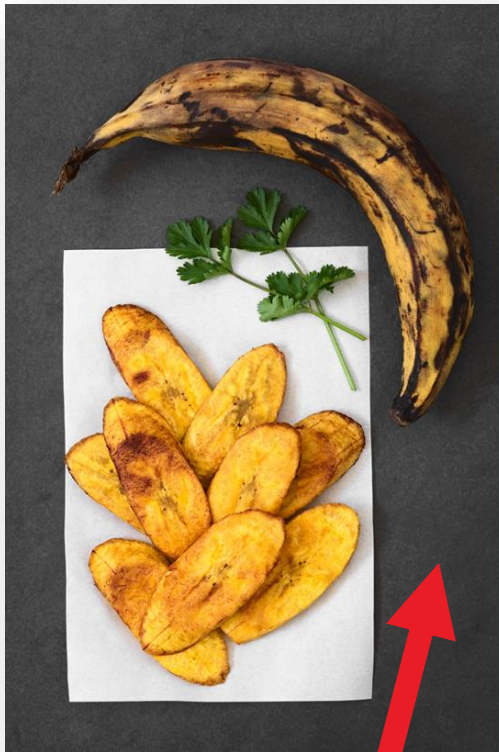

Turkeys do not have any teeth at all.

In fact, no birds have teeth.

To break up their food, they eat small rocks.
The rocks stay in a part of the stomach called the gizzard. The stones in the gizzard help grind up the turkey's food.

The slides can be mixed into a library booktalk or scrolled on a screen during checkout.

WHAT ARE PLANTAINS?

Plantains look like bananas, but they taste more like potatoes. Ripe plantains are black and are a little sweeter than unripe plantains, which are green or yellow.

Plantains are cooked or fried. The peel is not edible. You do not eat a plantain like a banana—they must be cooked first.

Cooked plantains are delicious when served with a little salt, pepper, and butter.

What is a memoir?

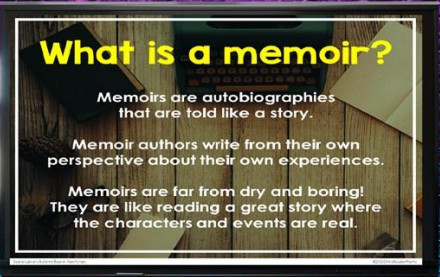

Memoirs are autobiographies that are told like a story.

Memoir authors write from their own perspective about their own experiences.

Memoirs are far from dry and boring! They are like reading a great story where the characters and events are real.
